

Dole Northwest Project Profile

Two of several projects for Dole, we were brought in to two new apple packing operations Dole had acquired in the Pacific Northwest. The scope was complete inventory control, lot and grower tracking from inbound fruit to storage and outbound shipments. One of the big challenges with these projects was that Dole had acquired two family owned operations which were run very differently and our team had to work through all the issues to get the in plant teams operating in new ways with new systems.
